DESCRIPTION The Nano Association of Czech Republic was founded on 27 November, 2014 at the office of the nationally sponsored Czech Invest offices. The goal of the organization is to better represent, both nationally and internationally, the strengths and capabilities of Czech companies in business, research, and education. The Association seeks to build on the already auspicious foundation that Czech nanotechnology achievements hold today as one of the leading international locations for innovation and strives to create a stronger awareness of these abilities while at the same time forging new links and opening new opportunities for cooperation between commercial and research sectors. The association has 19 members.
